MBA-0311-530: Macroeconomics

Credit Hours: 3

Rationale of the Course:

The purpose of this Macroeconomics course is to train students to think systematically about the current state of the economy and macroeconomic policy, and to be able to evaluate the economic environment within which business and financial decisions are made at both private and public levels. This will enable the students to make better judgments and proper execution of plans.

Course Description

Macroeconomics provides a powerful and coherent framework for monitoring and understanding the regional, national, and international forces that drive cycles and trends in the overall economic environment. Such forces can have important impacts on businesses and often play a crucial role in managerial decisions. The lectures are designed to provide a logical structure for the topics that make up the course; to emphasize the important concepts and methods of each topic and to provide relevant examples to which the concepts and methods are applied.

Course learning outcomes (CLO)

After completing the course, the student should be able to:

| |   |
|-------|--|
| CLO-1 | Enhance their knowledge and understanding of various Macroeconomic issues that are |
| | relevant for business decision making |
| CLO-2 | Apply the macroeconomic models to interpret and analyze real life problems in global |

INTEGRATIVE COURSE

MBA-0413-650: Strategic Management

Credit Hours: 3 Course Rationale

The course has been designed to make students familiar with the key issues of strategy formulation and implementation. This capstone course will enable students to strategically lead their organizations in creating sustainable competitive advantage in a rapidly changing environment.

Course Description

This course offers the key concepts, tools, policies, and principles of strategy formulation and strategy implementation. It deals with managerial decisions and actions that affect the performance and survival of organizations. Strategic Management is an integrative and interdisciplinary course. It assumes a broad view of the environment that includes employees, customers, suppliers, competitors, technology, the economy, capital markets, local and foreign governments, global forces, and views the external environment as dynamic and characterized by uncertainty. In studying strategic management, the course draws together and builds on all the ideas, concepts, and theories from other functional courses such as Accounting, Human Resources, Economics, Supply Chain, Finance, Sales, Marketing, Organizational Behavior, and Statistics. The course takes a general management perspective, viewing the firm as a whole, and examining how policies in each functional area are integrated into an overall competitive strategy.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

After completion of the course, students should be able to:

| CLO-1 | Understand the key concepts of strategic management and strategic leadership. |
|-------|---|
| CLO-2 | Know the techniques of creating sustainable competitive advantage for long-term |
| | success of an organization. |
| CLO-3 | Evaluate the internal and external environment of an organization to frame proper |
| | strategies at functional, business, global, and corporate level. |
| CLO-4 | Implement the appropriate strategies for different levels of an organization. |

HRM-0413-562: Industrial Relations and Compliance

Credit Hours: 3

Course Rationale:

The course has been designed to make the students familiar with the key issues of industrial relations at workplace. The course will also enable students to analyze the key compliance issues related to labor laws of Bangladesh for maintaining 'decent employment'.

Course Description

As labor laws are so central to all HRM functions, the present and future HR managers must be conversant with the labor laws of the country that regulate the employee-union-employer-government relationships in the workplace. 'Decent employment' is one of the key sustainable development goals (SDGs) as declared by United Nations (UN). Compliance of labor laws is a prerequisite in creating decent employment for employees for sustainable economic development of a labor-intensive economy like Bangladesh. Sound labor – management relations can boost up productivity, maintain industrial peace, and ultimately augment the image of an organization. This course is designed to provide knowledge and everyday application of labor laws of Bangladesh with necessary interpretations.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

After completion of the course, students should be able to:

| CLO-1 | Understand the key issues related to industrial relations and compliance. |
|-------|---|
| CLO-2 | Know all important provisions of the labor laws of Bangladesh. |
| CLO-3 | Analyze the key compliance issues pertaining to labor laws of Bangladesh. |

HRM-0413-563: Negotiations and Conflict Management

Credit Hours: 3

Course Rationale:

Within an employment context, the strategies and the modes are taught based on the groundwork of negotiation theory. The theory, processes, and practices of negotiation, conflict resolution, and relationship management are examined in different national and cultural contexts to develop and execute effective negotiation strategies and tactics for different scenarios considering the global challenges faced in business.

Course Description

This course provides a comprehensive introduction to concepts in negotiation, interpersonal effectiveness, and organizational conflict resolution. In addition to the theories and exercises presented in class, students will practice negotiating with role-playing simulations that cover a range of topics. Various types of negotiations including integrative (win/win approach), distributive (win/lose approach) and various iterations of these two extremes will be explored.

HRM-0413-566: Strategic Human Resource Management

Credit Hours: 3

Course Rationale:

This course is intended to convey knowledge of the basic functions of human resource management, current practices, and issues and build competency highlighting on the role of strategic human resource management has in a firm's success, along with knowledge. The syllabus will be covering content relevant to HRM topics such as HR Strategy, Planning and Recruitment, Staffing, Training and Development, Retention, Performance Management, Compensation and Benefits, and other aspects of HRM contemplating the relationship between these HRM practices and organizational effectiveness. The concept of sustainable competitive advantage linking HRM with an organization's business objectives will be covered as Strategic HRM will require students to work at an advanced level to critically analyze HR strategies in relation to their application in the workplace.

Course Description

Strategic human resource management is designed to expose the students with a critical understanding of the theories, principles, historical trends, current issues and practices relevant to human resource management strategy in organizations. The course has two central themes: (1) How to think systematically and strategically about aspects of managing the organization's human assets, and (2) What really needs to be done to implement these policies and to achieve competitive advantage. Students will carry out a detailed strategic analysis of human resource management issues in their organizations, and, in doing so, they will be able to identify and evaluate key HR issues which critically impact on organizational performance and strategic direction. This course also familiarize the students the strategic role of human resource managers and how their decisions as strategic partner contribute to organizational effectiveness and a firm's competitive advantage. By exploring the shifting of roles from process manager or administrator to strategic business advisor and partner, students will understand the unique strategic positioning of contemporary human resource management and the subsequent demands placed on professionals working in this area.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

After completing the course, the student should be able to:

| CLO-1 | Understand how human resource management strategy is developed in response to |
|-------|---|
| | internal and external environmental factors; |
| CLO-2 | Know the relationship between human resource management and organizational |

HRM-0413-567: Human Resource Information Systems and HR Analytics Credit Hours: 3

Course Rationale:

In this course, the roles of information and technology are reviewed to facilitate the specification, development, implementation, and maintenance of information technology for supporting employee information, decision-making and strategic planning. Students will develop a conceptual understanding of the HR analytics process and implementation.

Course Description

The purpose of this course is to provide an overview of the field of Human Resource Information Systems (HRIS). This course blends Human Resource Management (HR) concepts with Management Information Systems (MIS) concepts. Although a background in information systems is helpful, it is not a pre-requisite to succeed in this course.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

At the end of the course, the students should be able to:

| CLO-1 | List the organizational benefits of Human Resource Information System (HRIS). |
|-------|---|
| CLO-2 | Describe the applications of HRIS in the HR functional areas or practices. |
| CLO-3 | Identify and describe the perspectives in managing automated Human Resource data/information. |
| CLO-4 | Explain the characteristic features of HRIS. |
| CLO-5 | Operate a number of highly regarded HR software. |

HRM-0413-572: Cases in HRM

Credit Hours: 3

Course Rationale:

The course has been offered to make students familiar with the real challenges faced by organizations of diverse types with respect to managing human resources. Students will assume the roles of case protagonists in making effective decisions for sustainable development of the respective organizations.

Course Description

Decision making for the future can be wisely done by reflecting on the past events. Therefore, case studies serve as an effective method of teaching. Case studies ignite discussions, provide detailed valuable information, develop problem-solving skills, and bring the students closer to the real world. Human Resource practitioners face tough business problems, and they have to partner with other strategically important areas in finding solutions to them. The goal of this course is to present a compilation of Human Resource Management (HRM) case studies highlighting the contemporary practices in the major processes of HR Functions. These case studies will put forward experiential learning and will impel the interest of the students.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

After completion of the course, the students will be able to:

| CLO-1 | Analyze and develop the HR strategies of an organization that lead to competitive |

Grade Point Average (GPA) and Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) and their calculation procedures:

The Grade Point Average (GPA) and Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) are calculated by Total Grade points divided by Total Credits for GPA.

Course Withdrawal Procedure:

A student may withdraw from a course by the deadline with the consent of the instructor and the Academic Advisor. Withdrawal from only one course in a semester is allowed but the students should provide valid reasons along with documents while applying for the withdrawal. However, withdrawal from the whole semester may be permitted on a case-by-case basis provided the student has valid reasons for withdrawal from the semester along with valid documents. A grade of 'W' will be recorded on the transcript. Withdrawing from a course does not discharge a student from financial liability or responsibility for the course.

Course Add/Drop Procedure:

A student may add or drop a course by completion of an official Add/Drop form prior to the conclusion of the drop/add period. The signature of the academic advisor will be required for any drop/add/change of course. Students may add or drop a course within the stipulated period.

Incomplete (I) Grade Policy:

- 1. An 'l' grade is given to a student who has fulfilled 75% of a course but was unable to complete it due to illness or for any other acceptable reasons. The student should fulfill the remaining 25% before the end of the following semester in consultation with the course instructor.
- 2. The student is not required to register for the incomplete course in the next semester, however, assigning an incomplete or 'I' grades should be strongly discouraged. It will only be considered for the students who have a valid reason acceptable to the course instructor and the Dean of School.
- 3. In case if the instructor who assigned an incomplete grade to a student is not available for any valid reason to change the 'I' grade, the Dean of the School shall do it.
- 4. An 'I' grade must be replaced in the following term/semester when it was assigned. If a student failed to complete the course within the following term/semester, the grade may convert to "F" following the grade change procedure.
- 5. In a situation where the student is unable to complete the course due to unanticipated illness or family emergency and has not attended at least 75% of the classes held, he/ she will be asked to withdraw from that course and retake it.
- 6. A student whose internship/thesis or seminar paper/senior project is in progress, he/she will have the opportunity to obtain a 'Continuation grade' for the course under specific conditions and guidelines. The, symbol of 'Continuation grade', will be "CN". 'CN' grade can be given for maximum three semesters only.

Retake/Grade Improvement Policy:

- 1. Retake of a course shall be allowed only to the course with B- (minus) grades and below.
- 2. After the retake of a course the higher grade earned by the student will be considered towards counting of the CGPA.
- 3. Students will be allowed to retake any course twice before graduation.
- 4. A course must be re-taken in immediate successive enrolled semester if the grade is 'F'.
- 5. A course must be re-taken in immediate successive enrolled semester if the prerequisite grade is not achieved.
